GIFT ARTICLES.

What a wealth of beauty there is in a piece of rich, cut glass, how appropriate as a gift, how acceptable.

How rare have been exquisite Silver, China, Glass and Art-Ware.

However, no article can quite take the place of Sterling Silver for bridal gifts. The new designs in Berry Spoon, Salad Sets, and other fancy pieces at moderate cost, artistic excursions in Sterling Silverware, make very desirable articles for wedding gifts.

KILLALOE'S BIG EVENT.

Close on Three Thousand People Assembled.—The Picnic a Splendid Success.—Brudenell Defeats Renfrew at Baseball.

Wednesday, June 25th., will ever stand prominently out in the list of popular events in the little town of Killaloe. The weather conditions for a week previous had been anything but promising, but on this day the gods were most propitious, for the morning broke beautifully and clear and as the king of day rose gloriously from his crimson couch in the east it was an assurance that the Rev. Fathers French and the promoters of the Killaloe picnic would be blessed with an ideal day to crown their weeks of labor.

The crowds gathered from far and near. Eganville, the closest neighbor, sent up a contingent of three hundred strong; the cultured town of Pembroke, well represented by several hundred of its best citizens, while Renfrew, enterprising and progressive, entrained one hundred and fifty merry-makers. In addition, from Brudenell, Barry's Bay and Madawaska came throngs for a day's enjoyment and social intercourse. It might be termed a cosmopolitan gathering, or to add to an expression of the Hon. John Costigan, it was a gathering of the tribes of Renfrew County.

While Celtic and Saxon faces predominated there were seen those that revealed Teutonic origin, while several dusky representatives of a fast declining race gazed with stolid expression on that scene of modern civilization as their thoughts wandered down the corridors of the past and another scene, strangely different, appeared before their mental vision—when their forbears were monarchs of the soil, free to hunt and kill and pursue their way unmolested.

From the east came ten coaches of excursionists and when Killaloe was reached the Pembroke band, in natty uniforms, tendered a pleasing reception. For several minutes the multitude revelled in music and then proceeded to the picnic grounds. The dining booths at this juncture were the centre of attraction. The cambouse, in charge of Mr. Adam Craig, of Calabogie; and Mr. Ed. Lindsay, of Palmer, had hundreds of patrons. A choice meal was provided; the beans were prepared in epicurean style and Messrs. Craig and Lindsay were praised and blessed for the excellent meal provided. The other dining department was looked after by the comely maidens of Killaloe and vicinity who waited on their guests in that amiable and courteous manner for which they are noted. The meals provided were excellent.

BASEBALL MATCH.

The principal item on the day's programme of sports was the baseball match between the Renfrew and Brudenell teams. The Brudenell boys had come to Killaloe for a purpose, and that purpose was fulfilled in a most pronounced manner. They had not forgotten the lowering of their colors by the same opponents at a similar event last year and they were eager to clear themselves. It was a clean and thoroughly interesting game, enjoyed to the fullest extent by the thousands of spectators who lined the grassy slopes on either side of the diamond. The game may be sized up as a contest between the batteries of the respective teams, and the score of nine runs to four is the sequel to the tale.

Mr. J. P. Costello, whose form in the pitcher's box is now familiar to the sporting fraternity of the Ottawa valley, twisted in more ways than one—the ball for the Brudenell team, and he again demonstrated his marvellous ability in that position. The gazing crowds ranged around looked on in wonder, and the Renfrew boys were simply bewildered and struggled to know what they were up against. Costello's partner in the star performance was the cool and collected W. McGrath, who within the catcher's lines, sustained his gilt-edged reputation for excellent work. Renfrew's battery—W. Ackland and J. Conley (the former relieved at the latter stage of the game by L. Carwell)—put up good ball. Ackland controls the sphere well, and quick throwing to bases is one of the points in which he excels. The teams were composed of the following players:

Renfrew.—W. Ackland, J. Conley, D. Robinson, L. Carwell, J. P. Gillies, J. Carwell, W. Lister, W. Campbell, J. Fraser.

Brudenell.—J. F. Costello, W. McGrath, Jas. Costello, Jas. A. Costello, F. French, J. J. O'Brien, T. Costello, W. Whalen and H. Costello.

Umpire.—R. C. McNab, B. A., of Renfrew.

THE SPEECHES.

Among the prominent men who ascended the speakers' platform were Hon. F. R. Latchford, M. P. P., Hon. John Costigan, M. P., The Mayor, M. P., S. E. Mitchell, C. Clerk, and Messrs. Gregor McIntyre and Allan Lindsay, graduates of the Ontario Agricultural College. Rev. I. A. French, P. P., of Killaloe, first addressed the people before him. He thanked them most sincerely for their presence, and all those who had assisted in making the picnic the magnificent success it was.

Hon. F. R. Latchford, South Renfrew's popular representative in the Legislature, was next introduced. He was received with a hearty round of applause. His opening remarks were congratulatory on the success of the picnic and praise to the priest who had erected the beautiful church in the locality. As this was Mr. Latchford's first public appearance in the riding since the election he took occasion to thank the people for the magnificent support they had given him and promised to be a true representative and promote their interests and the interests of South Renfrew as a whole. Mr. Latchford retired with the remark that next year, for three consecutive years, he would be pleased to attend the Killaloe picnic.

For a short five-minute address Mr. J. P. Costello, of Calabogie, M. P., there is a fire, a vigor about him that is truly refreshing, and which excites the enthusiasm of the crowd. In opening he said he came out from Pembroke with the young people and he was glad he did so. The invigorating air, the beautiful scenery, the cheerful faces that surrounded him were influences that acted upon him and made him feel a younger man. He did not believe in people going to famous watering places when they could secure health and vigor right in this country. Mr. Murray spoke feelingly of the late J. W. Munro, and thanked his friends for their support of the Liberal cause at the last election.

Hon. John Costigan, the veteran parliamentarian and a gentleman high up in the esteem of the Canadian people, was introduced. He congratulated the priests and people of Killaloe on the grand success which attended their picnic and he was pleased to learn that the various nationalities and religious denominations had worked together in this laudable undertaking which had for its purpose the advancement of religion. He advised them to follow in that spirit and continue to live in harmony and concord and they would be the better of it. This was the substance of Mr. Costigan's speech and he retired amidst the applause of his hearers.

Addresses on practical farming from two practical men Messrs. McGregor and Lindsay, imparted much valuable information to those interested in agriculture. Mr. S. E. Mitchell, County Clerk, announced that there was a vacancy in the Agricultural College for a county student and anyone wishing to take advantage of the opportunity offered should do so at once.

The drawing of prizes proved a most interesting feature. The Gold Watch, which many young ladies strived to obtain, was won by Miss Jessie Butler, of Brudenell. Other prize-winners were: Charles Moore, of Adamstown. They left Adamstown some time after to seek their fortune in the west and finally they separated. McIntyre went to South Africa and has taken to himself another wife in Johannesburg. It seems that a suit for bigamy has been instituted and information apparently for this purpose is being sought from the chief.—Renfrew Journal.

NOTES.

—Rain fell as the excursionists were departing home.

Mr. Wm. Kirwin had charge of the wheel of fortune.

—The proceeds of the day were in the neighborhood of $2000.00.

—Mr. Wm. Mohr was a valued assistant during the day. The carrying out of the programme of sports was entrusted to him.

Mr. Geo. Grant, an Eganville resident, did some stunts well performing for the entertainment of the crowds.

The baseball match in the morning between Killaloe and Golden was won by the former team, the score being 14 to 12.

Mr. R. C. McNab, B. A., of Renfrew, umpired the baseball match between Renfrew and Brudenell in his old, impartial manner.

—The Pembroke band enlivened proceedings by discoursing popular music. Pembroke can boast of one of the very best bands in the country.

—"Jim" Costello held down 1st base for the Brudenell team, and he gathered in everything within a radius of twenty feet. He had some difficulty, however, in finding Ackland's curves.

—It is a pleasure to state that intoxicated individuals were conspicuous by their absence. No sign of intemperance was visible and Rev. Father French expressed his thanks for this evidence of self-denial on the part of many.

Upward of three score Arranville people attended the Killaloe picnic Wednesday. It was favored with fine weather, a rare thing this season, and the attendance was large, rolling up the receipts to $1500.00. Brudenell proved too much for Renfrew in baseball.—Arnprior Chronicle.

—Mr. George Henderson, of Pembroke, the well-known athlete, took first money in throwing the 22lb. shot a distance of 28 ft. 5 ins. Mr. Patrick J. O'Brien, of Lyndoch, was class seventh with 21 ft. 9 ins. to his credit. When our friend, Mr. T. Murray, of Barry's Bay, grows larger, he will throw farther. In the wheelbarrow race, John Rathwell, of Eganville, proved a winner, with Louis Massey getting second place.

A big gathering of Orangemen is expected at Shawville on July 12th.

Mr. Ed. Reynolds is leaving Renfrew to take up permanent residence in Pontiac, Mich.

—Miss Ida Daymond, of Pembroke has wed Mr. Charles Newman, of Pembroke. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Zarnke, in St. John's Lutheran church, Petawawa.

—The Toronto Daily Star offers a $15 stipend to the person catching the largest small-mouth black bass in Ontario waters before Sept. 15th next. The fish must be seen by two witnesses and weighed by them and a statement sent to the Daily Star, Toronto. John King, of Hawke's Bay, won the Star prize last year.

Several valuable gifts have been given in aid of the new R. C. church. Arnprior, a beautiful tapestry picture, subject, "Ruth and Naomi," valued at $150.00, painted by the Sisters of Charity at Mt. St. Vincent Academy, Halifax, N. S., was donated by Rev. Mother Superior, a five orbed tea set, cover and cosy, valued at $35.00 was the gift of the Sisters of Charity, Arnprior, and an artistically finished statue and pedestal, valued at $25.00, was given by the young ladies' sodality of the church.

All the way from Johannesburg in the Transvaal the services of Renfrew's Chief of Police are in demand. Not in connection with the settlement of the war, it is true, nor in any of the events connected with it, but in a pending suit for bigamy. In 1892 one David McIntyre married Miss Mary Jane Moore, daughter of Mr. Charles Moore, of Adamstown. They left Adamstown some time after to seek their fortune in the west and finally they separated. McIntyre went to South Africa and has taken to himself another wife in Johannesburg. It seems that a suit for bigamy has been instituted and information apparently for this purpose is being sought from the chief.—Renfrew Journal.

Everybody is going to Douglas on July 31st.

At St. Patrick's church, Ottawa, on Monday, June 23rd, Patrick McConnell, of Arnprior, wed Miss Frances May McAuley, of Plantagenet.

Opening safe locks continues to be an easy performance for Mr. A. Gravell, proprietor of the Renfrew Journal. He was called to Ottawa one day last week for this purpose. When Mr. Arden Chevrier, hotelkeeper, 209 St. Patrick street, passed away a few days ago, the safe in his hotel was locked. The combination was known only to the late Mr. Chevrier. Mr. Gravell was accordingly sent for, and after some fifteen minutes' work at it successfully solved the combination. The safe is a large one, manufactured by Goldie & McCulloch, of Galt, and fitted with a Sergeant-Gravellock, made in Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. Gravell gave expert evidence at the time of the famous Ponton bank robbery trial at Nanaimo, and since then his service has been at large demanded. He, however, does not make a business of opening safes, but follows it rather as a hobby.

The Doings of Grattan Council.

Eganville, June 2nd, 1902.

The council met this morning as a Court of Revision. All the members were present. After the Reeve was appointed chairman, and the necessary entries had been taken, the Council proceeded to examine the following appeals:

W. GEORGE,

General Merchant—EGANVILLE - ONT.

Within a Few Hours Afterward it was in Eruption—Experiences of Former Residents of St. Pierre.

tree ferns and bamboos, lay as Caribbean as smooth as a turquoise. We couldn't see the red roots of the cheur, but something that glittered like a diamond we took for the city of St. Pierre four thousand feet below us. In spite of the rough climb, having to hack every foot of our way through the forest, we were not fatigued for a balmy breeze like a giant hand fanned our faces on the mountain, and we were too high to feel the sun. The rest of the way was comparatively easy work, and it was with a feeling of intense exhilaration, such as all those who have scaled a great mountain experience, that we finally reached the summit.

Looking away from the mountain the view was magnificent; the whole of Martinique was spread out beneath us, and on one hand St. Lucia like a gray ghost rose out of the filmy sea, while on the other, seeming almost near enough to touch, towered the green gigantic volcano of Dominica—Mt. Diablotin. But what met our eyes immediately around us was uncanny. A lake of black water without a ripple lay in what looked like an iron cup that might have belonged to a giant. It was the crater of Mont Pelee.

BATHING IN MONT PELEE!

"I almost wish I hadn't come," said to H—, with a certain nervous dread; "there is something mysterious in the terrible silence and something menacing in the desolate grimness of everything."

"Pshaw!" replied H—, "the volcano is extinct. Why, it hasn't even smoked for nearly half a century."

We clambered down the side of the crater to the little lake at the bottom about one hundred and fifty feet. H— began to undress.

"I am going to swim across," he said. "Come on, it will be some thing to say." But the terror of the volcano was on me, and I refused. I watched him with fascination as he flopped about in that black water, and my heart seemed to stand still when he twice disappeared trying to touch the bottom. "It's too deep for me and as cold as ice," he said when he finally came out.

Towards sunset, without mishap we reached the beautiful little town of Morne Rouge, on a plateau surrounded with hills, which give it the appearance of having been the of a former crater. Some friends put us up for the night. We were so tired that we went to bed at once. We had not been asleep a half hour when I awoke in a cold sweat.

At first I thought I was dreaming that I was at sea. The wooden walls of the room creaked like the timbers of a ship; there was a rumbling like the breaking of waves; the bed was swaying; I was very dizzy and it was very dark!

AWAKENING OF THE GIANT.

"It's only an earthquake! Go to sleep," said H—, petulantly.

H—'s coolness gave me courage but when I heard the rumbling again, followed by the swaying and creaking, I got up and lit the candle. There was a sound of wailing and shrieking and the howling dogs. I was afraid to remain in the house, and calling H—, I went into the road. There I found the whole of Morne Rouge assembled

I turned in the direction in which he pointed. A thin column of smoke issued from the crater of Mont Pelée. After over forty years the volcano had, once more become active. Mont Pelée fell asleep after the night to awake suddenly and most appalling in these very days, as the world knows. Who shall ever say of a volcano that it is extinct?

The meteorologists despair as to early change. The State Governments of New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia, as the result of a conference, have appointed a committee of engineers to devise a scheme of water conservation and irrigation. The committee is now sitting.

BE PROMPT.

Don't live a single hour of your life without doing exactly what to be one in it, and going through it from beginning to end. Work, play, study — whatever it take hold at once, and finish it squarely, then to the next thing without letting any moments drift between. It is wonderful to how many hours these prompt people contrive to make of a day. It is as if they picked up the moments which the dawdlers lost. And you find yourself where you have many things pressing upon you, that you hardly know how to begin, as I tell you a secret. Take hold of the one first, one that comes hand, and you will find the rest fall into file; and though work is hard to meet when it charges a second, it is easily vanquished; you bring it into line. You may have often seen the anecdotes of the man who was asked how he had accomplished so much in his life. "My father taught me," was the reply. "when I had anything to do, to do it and do it." There is the secret of the magic word 'now!' Make sure, however, that what is to be done ought to be done. "Never put off till to-morrow what you can do

Mr. E. J. Reynolds, K. C. of Brockville, has been appointed junior judge for the united counties of Leeds and Grenville. The office has been vacant for some years since the death of Judge James Reynolds. The new judge is a town solicitor for Brockville and has taken a leading part in the affairs of the Liberal party in Brockville and vicinity.

The King's coronation is postponed indefinitely owing to the sudden illness which seized His Majesty last week. He underwent an operation for perityphlitis—an ordinary people it is termed appendicitis—and while bright hopes are entertained for his recovery he would not be able to bear the strain of the coronation ceremony for several weeks.

Edward VII. is close on sixty-one years of age. This fact lends seriousness to what in a younger man might not be a cause of grave apprehension. The earnest sympathy of all in the empire will go to the King in his danger. His life has been a manly and public-spirited one, and the hearty wish of all in the empire must be that many years of a prosperous and happy reign result to him.

The Irish newspapers comment sympathetically on the King's illness. The Dublin News says it has caused a cessation of political turmoil and all classes are united for once.

The Freeman's Journal pays a tribute to the King's bravery as a man and says that perhaps for the first time in history Ireland breathes the prayer of God Save the King.

The Daily Independent is equally sympathetic. It expresses the hope that the King's present serious condition is only passing obstacle to a successful reign.

Mr. Robt G. Hay, of Ottawa, has issued a writ against Mr. Samuel Bingham, ex-mayor for alleged libel and slander. The statements complained of were contained in what purported to be an interview with Mr. Bingham, published in the Free Press on May 30th last, as follows: "Mr. R. G. Hay was another who came to me after it was known that I was a candidate. He wished me to endorse a note for him for $1,000 to start an establishment on Bank street. I said to him that I would consider the matter and remarked: 'Won't you be someone out of politics?' He said that he had gone out of politics. Afterwards declined to accede to his request and he later on accused me of breach of loyalty, etc., on the occasion of the jubilee of our late beloved Queen."

A large number of people gathered at the rear of Mr. Wm. O'Brien's new building the other day and watched the test of manufacturing brick from sand and cement on a patent machine operated by motive power. On both occasions the test was highly satisfactory and after the final test had been made yesterday morning a deal was completed between the owners of the patent and Mr. O'Brien, whereby the latter received the sole right to manufacture brick under this patent in the districts of Algoma, Nipissing and North and South Kenora. Mr. O'Brien, of Stenford, is the inventor of the system, and received the patent in 1896. Under the system brick can be manufactured at the rate of 10,000 per day, this fact being clearly shown yesterday morning, when thirty-six bricks were turned out in two minutes and two seconds. Mr. O'Brien intends to fence in the plant and cover it with a roof. He also intends to commence manufacturing in a few days, and thinks there ought to be a good market right in the South, considering that it is practically a new thing. It has been so hard to obtain brick for building purposes. Mr. E. Behan, of Pembroke, will look after the new industry.—Sault Express.

On Saturday last the Shamrocks of Montreal measured strength with the Brooklyn club and triumphed by a score of 12 to 6.

On Thursday as the K. & P. express was out near Mississippi, the engineer in rounding a curve noticed a man lying close to the track with his head upon the rail, apparently asleep. The engine driver, Mr. D. Funnell, reversed but could not stop the train till it struck the man who was instantly killed. It is ascertained that the man was one of those who worked in the sawmill of Mr. Allan at Mississippi. The man had a jolting of some kind the night before and this man, apparently overcome by the night's enjoyment sought a place to vote the goddess of sleep, but failed ecologically in the dark to see that he placed his head too close to the railway track.—Renfrew Journal.

Once upon a time, and not so very many years ago either, duels were so common in Ireland as to be regarded as everyday, matter of course affairs. There was much truth in the story which has been told of Dick Martin of Galway, who, being in conversation with the prince regent, was addressed by the prince with, "So you are going to have a contested election in your country?"

"Yes, your royal highness, as usual." "And who will win?"

"The survivor, please your royal highness, Martin answered with a Hibernian coolness.

Powley's Liquefied Ozone kills the Germs of Disease

It Cures Catarrh

It has only been in this century that the great value of Powley's Liquefied Ozone, as a germ killer, was recognized by the men of science of the world. It was noted that every kind of disease was benefited when the patient went to live in mountainous districts. It was later discovered that in the river air of high localities there was a great amount of ozone. Now ozone kills the germs of disease, and this is the secret for the health giving properties of the air.

Powley was able to liquefy ozone and adapt it for medicinal purposes. Already Powley's Liquefied Ozone has made remarkable cures. Read what Mr. McLeod says: "I read you this brief account of my experience with your Ozone remedy. I have been troubled with Catarrh, as I have told you, for over forty years. I have been treated by the best doctors in the city, and have taken loads of the so-called Catarrh remedies, but all these proved a total failure. Over a year ago I was induced to give Ozone a trial and to-day I feel glad and rejoice in being cured of an obstinate attack of Catarrh. My eyesight is much better. My hearing is immensely improved and my time back. I, Lumbago, is all gone. Two years ago I was a physical wreck. Today I am rugged and healthy. And to you and the Ozone, I am indebted for these blessings. May God bless you in the good work, is the prayer of your much indebted humble servant."

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady Who Cures Her Husband of His Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save Her Home.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

"I had for a long time been thinking of the fact that the famous Frenchman, Dr. Casselle, had cured his wife of her drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought occurred to me, I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his work nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determination to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your famous Casselle Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed each morning and watched him grow more and more sober. At noon I gave him more and as supper. He never suspected a thing, and I soon began to feel better. I was very happy. I had discovered something that every nerve in my body shrank with hope and confidence. I could see a bright future ahead of me before me—a peaceful, happy home, close to the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comfort and everything else that a woman's heart could desire. My husband told me that whiskey was his staff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only a week before he had given up the bottle. He had stopped drinking altogether. He was now a different man. He was in the habit of going out and was sent for another letter he was on, and he should respond to me. He had done from pleasure before. He never has said a word to me about this. He has said I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cause the worst cases."

FURNITURE.

Is what interests all classes at this season of the year, and we have it in all grades and styles, to suit all customers.

An excessive profit is never exacted on any piece of furniture sold here, our aim being to price everything on a basis of strict economy.

We price goods as low as we possibly can, but insist, if you buy from us, that you get honest furniture, worthy of buying.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES? ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

P. A. WERNER, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gratulations.—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give a full history of my case, as it is used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I was no longer in a position to hear.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that my case was incurable, and that I would have to live with my deafness for the rest of my life.

Then I had used only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day after five years' hearing is the same as before. I have been completely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain

Very truly yours, P. A. WERNER, 725 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupations. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a moderate cost. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 536 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.
